The Government Organ on the new Constitution. Before entering on the consideration of the subject of this article we feel bound to congratulate ou contemporary on its promotion to the distinguished post of organ to Gov. Musgrave's government. We presume that promotion is the proper word to use in such a case, though there are those who, if speaking militarily, might say "reduced" to the post of organ of the Executive. It matters little however, so long as the relationship to the Government is generally known. Whilst congratulating the Government on the selection of an agent so well qualified to serve its purposes, we naturally enquire what Gov. Musgrave really means by the following language put forth by his organ, viz: "Without, in any degree, sharing the impatient, petulant indignation of chronic fault finders who berate the Governor in no choice terms, because the precise nature of the new Constitution has not transpired before now, &c.," we say the country will expect the proc-lamstion of the new Constitution immediately after the terms of Confedertion shall have been received. If the above means anything, in means what it says -and what it says is, that the people of this country are impatient, petulant, indignant, chumic fault-finders, because they call the Governor to account for not having proclaimed the new Constitution before the present. Now we ask what do we keep a Governor for, if it is not to do our work? Why is he drawing the life's blocd out of the people to pay $20,000 salary and keep up two palaces, if he is not disposed to do his work? It is his work to get the new Constitution: He has had time enough. He is paid for getting it; and now when the STANDABD boldly expresses the popular wish, that feeling is stig-matized by the organ of Gov. Musgrave as impatience, petalance, and fault-finding. Is it fault-finding for the people of this country to ask for their rights, in-stead of remaining quiescent to be domi-neered over by a lot of irresponsible officials? If it is, we prefer to be among such fault-finders rather than among the apologists of Governor Mus grave, and the mock-friends of the people. Again. The proclamation of the new constitution, says the Colonist should follow the terms of Confederation. Mark the word, "follow." follow? Have we not a clear and undoubted right to self-government, confederation or no confederation? The dodge seems to be that if the confederation terms be not likely to prove acceptabl to the country, why then the present hateful form of government must continue, and British Columbians may still clank their chains, or be forced notens volens to look southward for relief. The Government organ, however, thinks that not much was to be gained by an ear lier proclamation of the New Constitution. except as an act of pity to political as-pirants. Pray, will the Colonist tell the public, how it can harmonise its expressed wish for Responsible Government, and its sneers at "political aspirants"? Political aspirants are usually leaders of the people. Their followers require direction. Unless such be the case, how can there be any such thing as vigorous party Government? But the latter don't seem to be what the Colonist wants. Its role is to talk big and back climax, the Colonist says: "Indeed it is by no means certain that such a degree of affinity did not exist between the new Constitution and the mutual Terms as would have rendered their severance highly undesirable, if not wholly impracti-

Government and at the same delay its inauguration. What other interpretation can be put on its expression? We cannot find any other. But to cap the

This country is to un-It is not difficult to see that there is dergo the mockery of a new Constitu-or not. The electors are to say so at the polls. We are to have a Musgrav-tion. that, the Colonist says, "might possibly do for the specific work of the next session." Now, how is this mockery of plebiscites to be carried out? Hear the organ : Instead of fourteen mem . bers in the Legislative Council, nominated from among the heads of depart-ments and magistrates, there are to be six nominees. For instance: Mr. Han- TICKETS - - kin, who is as much out of place in the Legislative Council as a bull in a china shop; Mr. Fillipo, who has as much moral right to a seat there as the King of Timbuctoo; Mr. Trutch, whose patriotism is like an organ-grinder's monkey, always guided by the way his superior pulls the string; Mr. Hamley, who will faithfully serve the public as collector, but vote as required in the Council. Then there will probably be a Postmaster-General—and some one else. The only satisfaction in this change will be the reduction from fourteen to six officials. Now, as regards the elective members, there are to be nine. We are to have a six-by-nine Council; a pretious small affair indeed. There is to be no change in the districts, no increase of popular members; so, at least, says the organ. Now, what an infamous thing such a constitution will be !! What a mockery to refer Confederation to a popular vote, when such Council, so constructed, is to decide No wonder Gov. Musgrave has said "numbers don't always preponderate." Now, what can any such man care for the manhood of British Columbia who will make or who will consent to such a Constitution as that indicated by the organ? We leave our readers to answer this question; whilst we say it would be better, much better, far better, to annex the colony to Canada at once, by proclamation without consulting the people, rather than resort to such a mockery to ascertain the popular will.

We extract the following from an article in the Colonist of yesterday :

That the tariff of the Dominion would be estended over British Columbia, as a necesresult of union, few fif any, could really have doubted; although there are not wanting those who do profess to think otherwise. Those who pre ended to believe that British Columbia would, as a Province of the Dominion, be permitted to enjoy a Customs tariff of its own, could only have aimed at deciving the people, if indeed, they were not de-tive fire occurred at Panama on June 5th which destroyed nearly the whole of the for the sum of £30. business portion of the ancient city of Panama. The destruction is far more serious than any that has theretofore originated from either revolution or religious strife. The fire was caused by a spark from a candle being blown among the fliney bangings of the beds of the Aspinwall Hotel. It occurred at 1.30 o'clock a. m., when nearly every person was in bed. The loss of life is feartul. There are 12 persons known to have been burned to death, while others have been buried in the has been burned, and it is impossible to find out the names of a large number who are missing. SERENA RIVER. - Capt. Stevens, who arrived yesterday from a trading voyage up North, reports that Mr. Cunningham, the agent of the Hudson Cay Co. at Fort Simpson, told him that he had received a letter from Mr. Hankin, who is on Skeena River, stating that the miners who were at work on the Skeens were doing well, and were content with their prospects. Upon the arrival of the Otter we shall have the full particulars.

Stoken .- On Monday night the Captain's gig, of H. M. S. Zealous, was stolen by six men and the Captain's coxswain. Another boat was attempted to be lowered when one of the davit-falls fouled and precipitated six seamen into the water, one of whom was nearly drowned. The missing boat was overtaken and brought back with the men.

FOR THE MAINLAND. - The steamer Enterprise, Capt. Swanson, left yesterday morning for New Westminster, via Maple Bay and Nanaimo, with about 20 passengers, among whom were Capt. Cooper, Miss Gooper, and J. G. Vinter. The Enterprise on her return will call at Maple Bay and bring back the people from the Camp Meeting.

Our readers naturally ask who stated it? The Colonist has already stated it we know: but who else? Is there any good authority for it? "Our Special Delegate" would be acceptable if chapter and verse be given. But he is behind the times as a news agent We are told that an eminent courtier, who was concerned, it is said, with the Cariboo Delegate in land near Constance Cove, in expectation that the graving Dock would be built there, recently offered the land for sale,—because the news had arrived from the Delegate that Canada would not guarantee the capital for the Dock. But it is also said that he bought the land in. Now if this be the case we would like to know who did state that the Dock would be guaranteed; and particularly what authority stated that hope our cotemporary will give the authority; for if it be true that the railway is to be built in ten years, quite a number of folks would like to invest in real estate.

NEW RAILWAY PROJECT .- The Ottawa Government have a project for connecting the St. Lawerence with Puget Sound by rail. It is to be aided by England, and will cost as follows: First and second sections 2,060 miles, $75,000,000, Third section 152 miles not, says the London (Ontario) Fre Press of June 17th, an unimportant indication of the tendency of public opinion, that, while the Journal de Quebec has hoisted the flag of independence of Canada, the Toronto Globe expresses itself in tones of unmistaka-ble dissatisfaction at the English attitude to-ward Canada. No doubt the late Fenian raid has done much to excite prevailing feeling, but that affair is only incident to our position. The radical difficulty is not the Fenian raid, but the condition of affairs under which it becomes possible. If the United States knew that a descent on Canada would be resented as promptly and efficiently as was the insult to the British flag when carried on the Trent, General Grant would have been a good deal more active with his proclamation. But it is patent to the world, to the States as well as ourselves, from the mouths of prominent English statesmen as well as from the Press, that Canada must fight its own battles. Nothing can be fairer than that, we think. In that case, however, we must be allowed to make our own quarrels. It will never do for England to make the row and Canadians to have their heads broken over it. Nobody would be satisfied with that arrangement, at least among ourselves. What seems needed is that some "other form of alliance," of which the Governor-General spoke to us a Quebec, by which England would be relieved of the care, anxiety and expense of this colony, and Canada would not be involved in retribution for acts such as that concerning the Trent, the Alabama, or Ireland's "wrongs." The constant tremor in which the country is placed is most injurious which the country is placed is most injurious to it, and the necessity of some alteration in the existing status is forcing itself upon the public mind everywhere. The Quebec Chronicle, like the Free Press, has long held that independence, guaranteed by France, England and the United States, is the best solution to the difficulty. Hon. Mr. Cauchon,

Speaker of the Senate, now advocates independence in his paper, the Journal, and even the staid Quebec Gazette, historically conserthe staid Quebec Gazette, historically conservative, is constrained to say:

The only escape from such a condition of harassment, seeing that the Imperial Government highly approves of the inability or unwillingness of that of the United States to prevent the recurrence of wrongs we complain of, is de nova proclaimed to be peaceful separation from the parent State, and the sooner the better. Now, much as we deprecate the contingency, we confess it does not at all surcontingency, we confess it does not at all sur-prise us to find the argument revived, and we only fear the indifference of the home Govern-
